Why Spain?

Light and life outdoors

Long sunny seasons, very varied landscapes and a life lived out on the street.

Healthcare and education

Public and private healthcare, international schools and universities.

Culture and a global language

A strong identity and a language spoken across half the world.

Europe on the doorstep

The euro, Schengen and connections to all of Europe.

Safe and structured

A regulated banking, legal and property framework for buyers and residents.

Looking ahead

Renewable energy, modern infrastructure and increasingly sustainable cities.

Ask your client: their answer, live or own, changes the whole strategy. That’s where we start.

Two buyers walk into Spain...

For many of your clients, Spain is simply the best place to live. Same country, same market, two very different strategies.

“I want to LIVE in Spain.”

Relocation · retirement · remote work · family · study · a new chapter

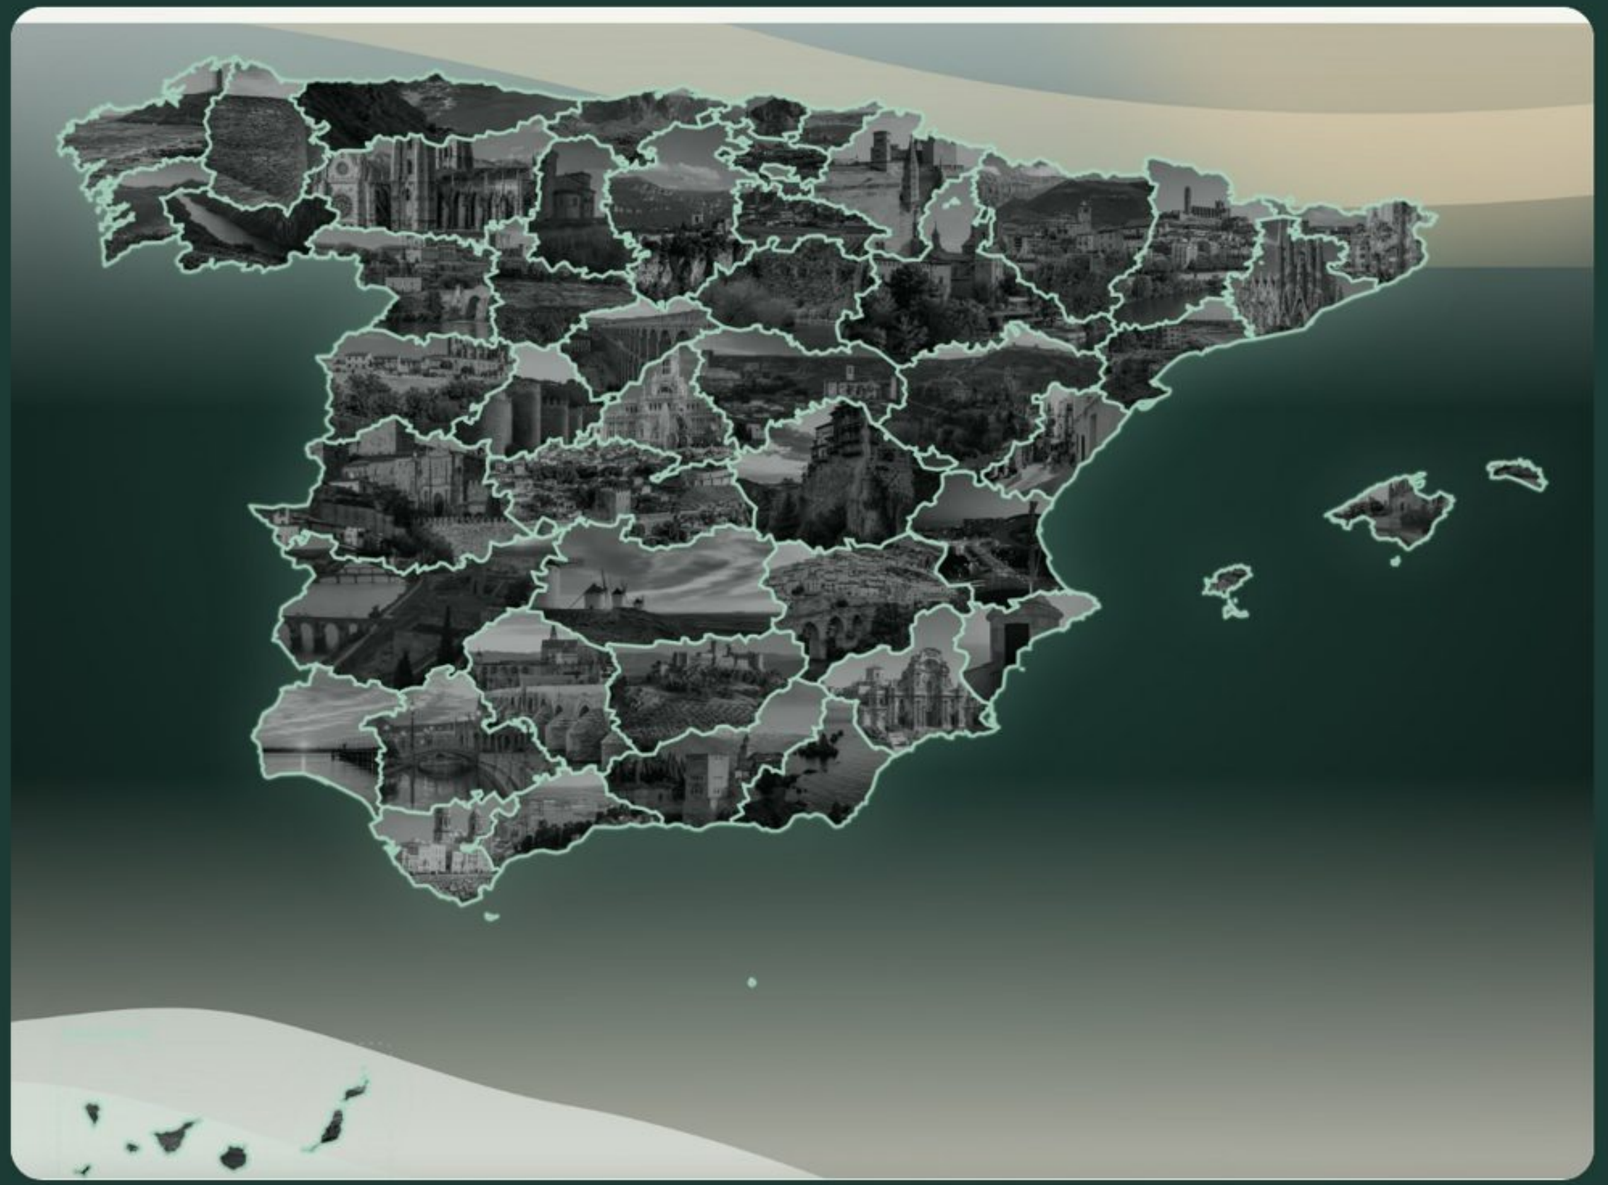

Questions: visas, residency, EU passport, tax, schools and universities, financing a main home

“I want to OWN in Spain.”

Second home · holidays · investment · legacy · future retirement

Questions: second-home financing, cash contribution, taxes, upkeep, currency, management

Spain is not difficult.
It's different.

Understanding how the two systems differ, and why some differences surprise buyers for better and for worse, is what turns the dream into a plan.

Our job: translate the Spanish system for your client — before they commit to anything.

We centralise the banks. Only around 5 banks in Spain have a solution for North American buyers. And once a bank says no, it is hard to get the file back out of its system: the case has to arrive well prepared the first time.

Same goal. A different sequence.

USA

Pre-approval · REALTOR® · Offer · Inspection · Lender · Closing

Spain

Financial viability · NIE · Reservation · Arras · Legal due diligence · Valuation · Mortgage underwriting · FEIN · Statutory review period · Notary · Registration

Don’t assume the Spanish process follows the American sequence.

A passport doesn't open the bank's door. Stability does.

01

Two separate projects

Buying with a mortgage runs on its own track. Residency and visas are a parallel project, with their own professionals and paperwork.

02

What moves the bank: the use

Main home or second home. A resident buying a main home can reach a higher LTV, even with income from abroad.

03

Resident means living here

A bank treats the client as resident once they already live in Spain. Change job, company or career path, and it may want 2–3 tax years again.

Often the smart move: buy and finance before moving to Spain.

What a Spanish bank usually looks at

~80%
Main home, in many cases

~70%
Second homes and investment, usually

30—35%
Debt-to-income, by bank and profile

20—25
Years: the usual mortgage term

75—80
Typical maximum age when the loan ends

General references only. Every bank applies its own analysis. Always subject to bank assessment.

3 · OUR BUSINESS · EXAMPLE · VALENCIA · RESALE HOME

A €500,000 home in Valencia: the real numbers

Down payment (30%)		Taxes and fees		5% services cushion		Cash to have ready
€150,000	+	≈ €48,400	+	≈ €25,000	=	≈ €223,400

TAXES AND FEES AT SIGNING

ITP transfer tax (9%)	€45,000
Notary	≈ €1,500
Land registry	≈ €1,000
Gestoría (admin agency)	≈ €500
Valuation	≈ €400
Total	≈ €48,400

THE MORTGAGE

Home price	€500,000
Loan (70%)	€350,000
Term	25 years
Interest rate (fixed)	3.5%
Monthly payment	≈ €1,752

Illustrative example, not an offer: subject to bank approval. The APR (TAE) depends on fees, insurance and linked products. The bank pays the notary, registry, gestoría and stamp duty of the mortgage deed (Ley 5/2019). Notary, registry, gestoría and valuation: estimates from the dreamnestspain.com calculator. ITP Valencia 9% (2026).

The mistakes we see every week

Not taking the arras contract seriously: it commits money, often before the bank has said anything.

Not looking at the strategy before buying.

Not understanding and planning the whole journey.

Thinking there are plenty of options and burning the good ones.

Getting carried away by the pressure and speed of the market.

Falling in love with a property before checking its planning status.

Believing an EU passport improves the financing options.

All of this can be fixed — if someone catches it before signing.
