Cover

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] There's a game at the end: no sleeping
- [ ] Let the photo breathe for a few seconds

WHAT I TELL THEM

Walk on, smile, don't read the slide. My goal for today: the next time a client says "Spain", you have one name in your head.

2 0:35

"We're thinking about Spain."

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Count hands out loud, have fun with it
- [ ] Close with: that's exactly why we're here

WHAT I TELL THEM

Almost everyone has heard it, and almost nobody knows what to say next. That's normal: Spain isn't the US with better weather. Banks think differently, steps come in a different order, and new words suddenly matter.

? ASK THE ROOM

How many of you have heard a client say "we're thinking about Spain"? Now keep your hand up if you knew exactly what to tell them next.

3 1:45

Hi, I'm Cassandra

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] MY STORY: write it on the lines below
- [ ] Short, real, with a smile
- [ ] Move on: this isn't the Cassandra show

WHAT I TELL THEM

I'm American, born in San Francisco, and Spain has been home since I was a teenager. Twenty years in banking, specialised in property finance, and I raised my three kids here. I've sat on both sides of the table.

4 3:29

The Dream Nest team

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Real office in Burriana, real people
- [ ] Say the number: E156

WHAT I TELL THEM

We're a real estate credit intermediary regulated by the Bank of Spain, number E156. Mortgage financing is the heart of what we do, but we're there for the whole project.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Ioana Furau — Senior Mortgage Strategist; English, Italian, Romanian and Spanish

> Mónica Cubel — Senior Mortgage Strategist; twenty years inside traditional banking

> María Amparo Salvador — Legal Counsel; reviews the legal and documentation side of every case

> LCCI — the Spanish mortgage credit qualification; Ioana and Mónica hold it

5 4:21

You may have met us already

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Fifteen seconds, with a smile, move on

WHAT I TELL THEM

Some of you may have seen us in Stockholm with Medland, at Coverings in Las Vegas or at Inmocionate in Spain. We go where you are, because this works better in person.

6 4:39

Spain is not difficult. It's different.

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Say it slowly: it's the thesis of the talk
- [ ] Our job: translate the Spanish system before the client commits

WHAT I TELL THEM

The one sentence I want you to take home. Most surprises come from assuming Spain follows the American script. Knowing them early lets your client enjoy the dream with their feet on the ground.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Pre-approval vs FEIN — at home pre-approval feels like a green light; here the bank's real commitment comes late, with the FEIN

> Notary — not a stamp: it's where the purchase becomes real

7 5:31

One project, many pieces

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Point at three or four tiles on screen
- [ ] Money in dollars: the exchange rate on the day is part of the budget
- [ ] We look at the mortgage inside the whole project, until the keys

WHAT I TELL THEM

Financing is our epicentre, but everything else sits around it. When one piece moves, they all move: change the use of the home and the financing changes; change the financing and the cash needed changes.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> The pieces — residency, tax, currency, notary, documents and timing

8 6:41

Making it work together

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] You stay the person your client trusts
- [ ] Say it plainly, then move on

WHAT I TELL THEM

We work alongside everyone around the client: lawyer, tax adviser, bank, notary and you. Everyone keeps their role. We know how the pieces fit in Spain and help them pull in the same direction.

9 7:15

Two buyers walk into Spain

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Example: the same Valencia apartment, two strategies

WHAT I TELL THEM

Same country, two strategies: the buyer who wants to LIVE in Spain and the one who wants to OWN. Our first question is never which property; it's live or own, because the use of the home changes the strategy.

? ASK THE ROOM

Is your client a LIVE buyer? Hands up. And who has an OWN buyer? Hands up.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Use of the home — main home or second home: what moves the bank, and not by much

> Residency and visas — a parallel project, with its own professionals and paperwork

10 9:00

EU citizen or visa?

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Slowly: buying and living are two separate questions

WHAT I TELL THEM

Three questions in one. To buy, no. To get a mortgage, no: a passport or visa doesn't make it easier. To live in Spain, yes.

? ASK THE ROOM

Who thinks you need a visa to buy a home in Spain?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> NIE — foreigner identification number; needed to buy

> The bank looks at — income, stability and the use of the home

> Living in Spain — EU passport or the right visa or permit; immigration lawyers handle it

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

11 10:10

The Italian grandmother

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Say it clearly: not easier for the mortgage
- ☐ Tax side: cross-border tax specialist

WHAT I TELL THEM

Many Americans have, or could get, EU citizenship. It changes how they can live here. It does not change how a Spanish bank reads their mortgage.

ASK THE ROOM

Raise your hand if you have a client with an Italian grandmother.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- EU, EEA or Swiss — the simplest path to living in Spain
- Legal residence vs tax residence — being allowed to live here is not the same as paying tax here

12 11:19

Stability, not passports

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Double-edged sword: stability comes first
- ☐ Unless there is continuity of employment
- ☐ It is strategy, not paperwork

WHAT I TELL THEM

The myth: with a passport or visa the mortgage gets easier. It doesn't. What moves the bank is the use and the stability. Often the smart move is to buy and finance before moving.

ASK THE ROOM

Who has a client planning to move first and buy later?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Two projects — mortgage on its own track; residency and visas in parallel
- Use — a main home can reach a higher LTV, even with income abroad
- Resident — for a bank, someone already living in Spain
- 2–3 tax years — what a bank may want again after a new job, company or career path

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

13 12:39

Visas 1 · to live in Spain

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ EU citizens: no visa, register once here
- ☐ IPREM €600 · SMI €1,221 (2026)
- ☐ Owning and living here: two separate projects

WHAT I TELL THEM

Not an immigration class, but they will ask. Row by row, one line each; the deadlines are legal ones, real times depend on the consulate.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Non-lucrative — €28,800/yr + €7,200 per dependant, private health insurance, no work at all; renewal needs 183+ days a year in Spain

> Digital nomad — €2,442/month, remote work for companies outside Spain

> Student — can work up to 30 h/week

> Family — reunification; family of an EU citizen, 5-year card

14 14:09

Visas 2 · to work or invest

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Buying a home no longer gives residency in any form
- ☐ The door changes the plan, not the bank's view
- ☐ Arraigo exists, but only for people already in Spain

WHAT I TELL THEM

The second door: work and business. Twenty-day decisions for the startup-law routes; three months for employees and standard self-employed.

ASK THE ROOM

Who still gets asked about the golden visa?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Blue Card — salary at least 1.4 × average gross pay

> Entrepreneur — favourable ENISA report

> Positive silence — no answer in 20 days = granted

> Golden visa — abolished on 3 April 2025

15 15:24

The Beckham law

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ The bank still wants stable, documented income
- ☐ Timing: it starts with the move
- ☐ Cross-border tax specialist before they come

WHAT I TELL THEM

Spain's special tax regime for people who move here to work: 24% flat on work income up to €600,000 for the arrival year plus five. It changes the tax, not the income.

ASK THE ROOM

Who has heard of the Beckham law?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Who — employees, remote workers, directors, ENISA entrepreneurs, highly qualified; family can join
- Condition — no Spanish tax residency in the last 5 years
- Modelo 149 — opt in within 6 months of starting work
- Rates — 24% up to €600k, 47% above; foreign passive income not taxed in Spain

16 16:39

The family route

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Two or three years, and every step is a moment the client might mention Spain
- ☐ Spain isn't only retirement: education, family, remote work, investment

WHAT I TELL THEM

A made-up family you'll recognise: the Millers. Their daughter does a semester in Valencia, the parents visit, rent her an apartment, someone does the math at a café, summers begin… and one day part of the year in Spain is simply their life.

17 17:49

USA vs Spain: the sequence

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Signing arras before knowing the financing works is the most expensive surprise
- [ ] Review period days: if asked, confirm with the team

WHAT I TELL THEM

On top, six steps you know by heart. Underneath, eleven new words. The trap is the order: in Spain the arras are often signed before the bank has said anything.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- NIE — foreigner number for the deal
- Reservation — first signature with some money, takes the property off the market
- Arras — deposit contract that commits the client; the word to remember
- Due diligence — legal check of the property
- Valuation — the bank's official appraisal
- FEIN — the bank's binding offer, in writing
- Review period — by law, time to study the offer before signing
- Notary — where it all becomes real
- Registry — the property goes in the client's name

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

18 19:33

What to anticipate

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Good surprise: you can buy without flying in, with a power of attorney planned ahead
- [ ] If the client already has a house in mind, this is the list we go through

WHAT I TELL THEM

The roadmap. Most surprises come from signing before these eight things are clear. The order matters: numbers first, then the property, then the signatures.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Financing first — it sets the real budget
- NIE early — simple, but it takes time
- Total cash — price, costs and a cushion
- Nota simple — registry extract: owner and charges
- Valuation risk — before the arras
- Arras date — arras come with a deadline
- Documents — ID, income, bank statements
- Who signs — in person or with a power of attorney

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

19 21:18

Spanish banks

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Line to take home: excellent at home doesn't mean an automatic fit for a Spanish bank
- [ ] That's not a no: it's a file to build and present properly
- [ ] Knowing which bank fits which profile is what we do every day

WHAT I TELL THEM

The American assumption: "my client is a great borrower at home, Spain will be easy". In Spain a few very large banks dominate, with centralised decisions and very structured risk models.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> International desks — some banks work with non-residents every day; not all read an international client the same way

20 23:02

Building the file

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Which lenders may accept the profile, and how to present it
- [ ] The bank always decides; we make sure it decides on a well-prepared file

WHAT I TELL THEM

Spanish banks don't always reject complex profiles. They reject the ones they don't understand. Before any bank reads your client's file, we do, and we translate it.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Dollar income — the bank thinks about the euro payment if the dollar moves

> Self-employed or 1099 — normal at home; here it needs explaining

> Age — can shorten the term a bank offers

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

21 24:12

Five numbers

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Age example: at 60, a 25-year term may not fit
- [ ] None of this is a quote: it's a starting point
- [ ] No rates or monthly payments

WHAT I TELL THEM

If you take one photo today, make it this one. General references only: every bank does its own analysis.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- ~80% — main home, in many cases, also residents with income abroad
- ~70% — second homes and investment: the client brings about 30% plus costs
- 30–35% — debt-to-income
- 20–25 years — the usual term
- 75–80 — typical maximum age when the loan ends

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

22 25:56

Price ≠ valuation

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Wait for "six hundred thousand!", then: not necessarily
- [ ] It's the surprise nobody budgets for
- [ ] We check valuation risk before anyone signs a deposit

WHAT I TELL THEM

In Spain an approved appraiser does the valuation, and the bank lends against the lower figure. If the valuation comes in below the price, the gap comes out of the client's pocket, in cash.

ASK THE ROOM

If the property costs six hundred thousand euros, what is it worth to the bank?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Valuation — the official appraisal the bank lends on

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

23 27:06

The €500,000 home

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Repeat the wildest guess
- [ ] Bridge: now, some real numbers

WHAT I TELL THEM

The price is only one part of the project. It depends on several things, and on the next slide we put real numbers on the taxes.

ASK THE ROOM

Your client buys a five-hundred-thousand-euro home. How much cash do they really need? Shout a number.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Use — main home or second home changes the financing percentage
- Region — taxes depend on the region and on new build or resale
- Costs — notary, registry, lawyer, valuation, fees
- Cushion — a reserve for the first months
- Currency — the exchange rate on the day moves the total

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

24 28:51

Purchase taxes by region

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Valencia 9% since 1 June 2026, 11% over €1M
- [ ] General rates; reduced ones exist
- [ ] Source: Hacienda 2026, checked 26 Oct 2026

WHAT I TELL THEM

Where you buy changes the number. Same €500,000 resale home: €30,000 in Madrid, €45,000 in Valencia, €50,000 in Cataluña.

ASK THE ROOM

Guess: how much difference between Madrid and Cataluña on the same home?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- ITP — regional transfer tax on resale: 6% Madrid to 13% top band Baleares/Cataluña
- IVA — 10% on new build, plus AJD 0.75–1.5%
- IGIC — Canarias: 7% instead of IVA
- Mortgage AJD — paid by the bank since 2018

25 30:21

Common mistakes 1

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Wait for the room's "NO!" each time
- ☐ What we control is everything before the bank's decision

WHAT I TELL THEM

The mistakes we see every week. I read each one in the client's voice and the room answers. Good news at the end: every one is fixable if someone catches it before signing.

? ASK THE ROOM

"I'll find the property first and figure out financing later." Yes or no?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Financing later — no: financing sets the budget
- "Great US client" — not automatically a great Spanish file
- "It'll value at the price" — it can value lower, and the gap is cash
- "I have the down payment" — not the total cash: taxes and costs on top
- "The agent said it's fine" — nobody can promise what a bank will do

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

26 32:05

Common mistakes 2

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Wait for the room's "NO!"
- ☐ Pause after "clarity before commitment"

WHAT I TELL THEM

Same game, a few more, including the two residency myths. We finish with the line on screen: clarity before commitment.

? ASK THE ROOM

"I'll move first and get the mortgage once I'm resident." Yes or no?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Reserve now — reservation and arras can be lost
- "I'll use my bank" — their US bank usually doesn't lend here
- Lowest rate — not the whole cost
- Passport or visa — doesn't make the mortgage easier
- Move first — the bank may want 2–3 tax years again

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

27 34:05

Rapid fire 1

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Nod to the Italian grandmother
- [ ] "Look at you, experts already"

WHAT I TELL THEM

Game-show pace: I read the question, the room guesses, I answer in one line.

ASK THE ROOM

Can foreigners buy property in Spain?

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Buy? — yes
- Be resident? — no
- Does buying give residency? — no
- Mortgage with dollar income? — potentially, with the right bank and a well-built file
- EU passport? — easier to live here, not to get a mortgage
- NIE? — yes, no NIE, no deal

28 35:15

Rapid fire 2

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Finish: ABSOLUTELY!

WHAT I TELL THEM

Round two, same pace, and a big finish with the room shouting the answer.

ASK THE ROOM

Should they analyse financing before reserving a property? Let the room shout it.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Buy through a company? — possibly, but financing, tax and costs change: analyse first
- Rent it out? — tourist rental rules depend on the region and the city
- Nota simple? — always, before signing
- Sign without flying in? — yes, with a power of attorney planned ahead

29 36:07

Where Dream Nest is going

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Always a real person who answers

WHAT I TELL THEM

We're investing seriously in technology, but buying a home in another country should never become an automated process. Technology complements the human relationship, never replaces it.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> What we use it for — the client sees where they are, what's missing, what's next; easy documents; no repeating information; fewer errors

30 36:59

My Dream Nest app

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Be honest: some features, like registry information, are rolling out progressively

WHAT I TELL THEM

I show it the way I'd show a friend my phone. Real screens from the client app: digital clarity, human guidance.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Your Journey Home — every stage, visible

> Documents — what's in and what's missing

> Your Numbers — financing, cash and costs in plain language

> Found a property? — the client shares a listing and a person on our team looks at it

> Tasks and team — what to do next and who's on the case

31 38:09

For you, the REALTOR®

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Red line, said firmly: the client's finances stay private
- [ ] We never share income, assets, debts, bank documents or credit information
- [ ] Visibility of the service, not their finances: it protects the client and your relationship

WHAT I TELL THEM

You introduce a client… and then, silence. We want the opposite: the partner app is live.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> What you'll get — introduce a client in seconds, each client's progress (mortgage and home), contact confirmed, documents by country, your own page, Spain resources and games

32 39:19

dreamnestspain.com

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Give them a few seconds to scan
- [ ] When a client says "Spain", send them there… or better, to us

WHAT I TELL THEM

Don't take notes, scan the QR. Everything from today is on the website, in seven languages.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> On the site — a roadmap in six questions, calculator and buying costs by region, guides and a free personalised dossier

33 39:54

Mortgage → purchase strategy

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Comfortable, not just possible
- [ ] The decision is always the client's
- [ ] No promises about outcomes

WHAT I TELL THEM

With the full picture the question changes: it stops being "can I get a mortgage?" and becomes "what is the right plan?".

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> The questions — how much to buy, to finance, to keep; buy now or prepare; buy before or after the move; is this property comfortable for me

34 40:46

Dream Nest Signature

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Not a "premium product"
- [ ] Question 1: can the bank finance this?
- [ ] Question 2, slowly: does this whole project make sense for this client?

WHAT I TELL THEM

For clients whose project is bigger than a mortgage: our most complete layer of strategy and support, with the mortgage still the regulated, technical core.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Includes — financing, the property project, purchase structure, professionals, coordination, analysis and planning

35 41:21

Your client stays your client

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Look at the room
- [ ] Bring us into the conversation
- [ ] You stay their person; we become your team in Spain

WHAT I TELL THEM

The emotional core. You've spent years building that relationship. When your client starts dreaming about Spain, you don't have to let go, and you don't have to become an expert in Spanish banking.

36 41:56

Call us early

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Short and firm

WHAT I TELL THEM

Not at the notary: at the first "maybe Spain". Our best work isn't fixing a complicated deal, it's building the project right from the start.

37 42:13

The guide you take home

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ LTV figures: indicative, subject to profile, valuation and bank
- ☐ The dossier is free and carries no obligation

WHAT I TELL THEM

This is the guide you'll take home tonight: who we are, which buyer your client is, the free personalised dossier, what clients say and the QR to begin.

ASK THE ROOM

Who already has the brochure in their hand? Turn it over with me.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Second home or investment — typical route for non-residents, up to 70% LTV, indicative
- Relocation or digital nomad — for qualifying buyers moving to live in Spain, up to 80% LTV, indicative
- Financial & Lifestyle Dossier — 20 pages, free, digital, after the application

⚠ Figures: general reference, subject to bank assessment

38 43:43

The roadmap, close-up

DON'T FORGET

- ☐ Not every property can be financed
- ☐ The timeline is indicative only

WHAT I TELL THEM

From first conversation to front door and beyond, in five steps and around three to four months. Finance first: we test the property before the client reserves.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

- Plan — week 1, video call and strategy
- Prepare — week 2, banking-risk analysis and a bank-ready file
- Discover — week 4+, property viability and valuation
- Protect — month 2-3, banks and safeguards
- Complete — month 3-4, FEIN, notary and beyond

39 45:13

Spain: a place to belong

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] MY ZONES: write the 3 or 4 below
- [ ] No prices without a source

WHAT I TELL THEM

One country, many ways of life, all within around 1,000 km. This is where I tell them about the places I love and why people choose them.

ASK THE ROOM

Where are your clients dreaming of? Shout out a place.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> Live well — light and climate, healthcare and schools, culture and a global language

> Live with confidence — euro and Schengen, a regulated framework, looking forward

40 49:13

Game time

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Before the talk: dreamnestspain.com/games/live?host=1 · code nido-e156
- [ ] Choose International partners, English, 12 questions, 25 seconds
- [ ] Check the sound goes to the room speakers
- [ ] Read names as they join; Space to start
- [ ] If the connection fails: play with hands up

WHAT I TELL THEM

Everything from today, now on your phone. Right answers score; fast right answers score more. Let's see who can get their client to the keys.

WORDS I EXPLAIN

> To join — scan the QR, type the PIN, pick a name and a character

41 57:13

Close

DON'T FORGET

- [ ] Slowly, looking at the room
- [ ] Thank you
- [ ] Leave the QR on screen during Q&A

WHAT I TELL THEM

Your client is thinking about Spain. Now you know who to call. You don't need to remember everything from today: just remember Dream Nest.
